2026 NEVADA GENERAL ELECTION RESULTS

(Prepared November 4, 2026, at 11 am; updated November 13, 2026, at 8 am)

Disclosure: These general election results are unofficial. Mail ballots post marked by Election Day and received by 5 p.m. on Saturday, November 7 were counted. Additionally, mail ballots with an unclear or no post mark that are received by Friday, November 6 at 5 p.m. were counted. Voters who needed to cure their ballots had until Monday, November 9 to do so.

The canvas by boards of county commissioners from all state counties and the Secretary of State must be completed on or before the 10th day following the election, which is today: November 13, 2026. Results will be official on November 24, 2026, when the State Supreme Court meets with Secretary of State to canvass the vote and Governor issues certificates of election (NRS 293.395).

As of November 1, 2026, statewide, voter registration numbers (ALL – active and inactive) are as follows:

Democrat	685,629
Republican	661,590
Nonpartisan	1,005,927
Independent American	103,138
Libertarian	17,952
Other	40,130

Voter turnout for the November 3, 2026, General Election was 52.44%, and it's broken down as follows:

Active Registered as of November 1	2,103,563
Total Turnout	1,103,068
Election Day Turnout	213,423
Early Turnout	310,161
Mail Turnout	579,484

RACES WE WATCHED CLOSELY

Last week's election results showed a blue wave across the country, and Nevada Democrats had their strongest night in the state in decades, winning nearly every competitive race. Note: Figures below are unofficial results as of Friday morning, November 13. Election results will be final on November 24, 2026, when the Supreme Court will meet with the Secretary of State to canvass the vote and Governor issues certificates of election.

Nevada's U.S. House delegation remains largely unchanged, with Representatives Dina Titus, Susie Lee, and Steven Horsford holding their seats. The exception is Congressional District 2, which had never been won by a Democrat. In Northern Nevada, CD 2 produced one of the biggest upsets in the state's history: Democrat Teresa Benitez-Thompson defeated Republican David Flippo to become the first Democrat to win the seat.

The governor's race was also closely contested. Attorney General Aaron Ford defeated incumbent Republican Governor Joe Lombardo 52% to 44%, according to the Nevada Secretary of State. The race had been rated a true toss-up, with tight polling and strong favorability numbers for Lombardo. With his win, Ford becomes Nevada's first Black governor and the first Black governor elected west of the Mississippi River. Democrats also swept all six of Nevada's constitutional offices. No party had done that since Republicans in 2014, and it is the first Democratic sweep since 1962.

Assembly Democrats secured a two-thirds supermajority in the 42-seat Assembly, regaining the veto-proof margin they lost in 2024. Democrats flipped Assembly Districts 2, 4, 13, 22, and 35. Kamilah Bywaters won in AD 2, which was held by Heidi Kasama, who ran unsuccessfully for Clark County Commission. Eileen Eady was successful in AD 4, previously held by Lisa Cole, as was Daniel Andrews in AD 13, previously held by Brian Hibbetts. In AD 22, Shenea Booth defeated four-term incumbent Milissa Hardy. In AD 35, culinary union member Joe Spica won with 58.5% of the vote, taking back the seat Rebecca Edgeworth flipped during the 2024 red wave. Democrats also held several other competitive seats. In AD 41, a purple district previously held by Majority Leader Sandra Jauregui, Democrat Vinny Spotleson defeated Republican Kelly Chapman with roughly 60% of the vote, keeping the seat in Democratic hands. In AD 9, Democrat Ryan Hampton defeated Republican Erica Neely with roughly 61% of the vote. And in AD 37, one of the most purple seats in the state, Democratic incumbent Shea Backus won with 57.6% of the vote.

In the state Senate, Democrats remain one seat short of a supermajority, keeping their current 13–8 majority. Democrats won all of the most closely watched races, including Senate Districts 8, 9, and 12. Senate Majority Leader Nicole Cannizzaro's election as Attorney General opens her Senate seat. Clark County officials will now appoint her replacement, and Senate Democrats have chosen Edgar Flores as the new caucus leader for the 2027 legislative session.

Notably, women will remain a majority of the state legislature.

BALLOT MEASURES

There were no statewide questions 1–5 on the 2026 General Election ballot. A number of ballot initiatives were circulated, but none of them gained enough valid signatures to qualify for the general election ballot. Statewide Questions 6 and 7 were on the General Election ballot for the second time. Both ballot questions passed during the 2024 General Election.

6. Amend Constitution to Make Abortion Access an Individual Right

Should the Nevada Constitution be amended to create an individual's fundamental right to an abortion, without interference by state or local governments, whenever the abortion is performed by a qualified healthcare professional until fetal viability or when necessary to protect the health or life of the pregnant individual at any point during the pregnancy? This passed and will become law.

YES	677,679 (63.58%)
NO	388,202 (36.42%)

7. Amend Constitution to Require Voter ID

Should the Nevada Constitution be amended to require voters to either present photo identification to verify their identity when voting in-person or to provide certain personal information to verify their identity when voting by mail ballot? This passed and will become law.

YES	666,882 (62.13%)
NO	406,454 (37.87%)
